

Prince William Art Society

Jewell Pratt Burns Scholarship Winner – 2023

The fourteenth annual Jewell Pratt Burns Scholarship winner was graduating senior Awaneh Sawaneh from Colgan High School. Ms. Jewell Burns presented Sawaneh with a certificate in appreciation of her artistic talent and a check for $1,000 to help support her as she pursues a degree in Fine Arts at the Savannah College of Arts and Design next year. Awaneh currently plans to pursue a major in Sequential Art with a minor in Illustration.

Approximately 30 people were present to celebrate Awaneh's achievement. After the presentation, the audience enjoyed cake, ice cream and renewing connections as well as meeting Awaneh and her mother. Judy Gallagher was present to represent Jim Gallagher, past president of the Prince William Art Society and strong supporter of the scholarship over the years. One of Jim's paintings, given to the PWAS by Ms. Gallagher, was on display. Several original members of the scholarship committee were also present, as well as several new PWAS members attending for the first time.

The Prince William Art Society membership wishes Awaneh well in her pursuit of a degree in Fine Arts and a future rich with creativity.

Photo shows Ana Quispe, PWAS President (left), Jewel Burns (center), and the 2023 awardee, Awaneh Sawaneh.

May 22, 2023

